Second Quarter

Business Highlights

The strong growth in the quarter is attributable to the accelerated performance of dLocal's enterprise merchants, particularly in the advertising, retail, and streaming industries. In addition, dLocal saw the continued recovery of ride hailing and travel industries, which had been adversely affected during the early stages of the COVID-19 pandemic in the second quarter of 2020.

Revenue from Existing Merchants increased by US$19.7 million in the second quarter of 2021. The net revenue retention rate, or NRR, in the second quarter of 2021 improved to 196% compared with 159%<sup>[1]</sup> in the fiscal year 2020.

Revenues from New Merchants increased by US$18.6 million in the second quarter of 2021 compared to US$9.5 million in the whole fiscal year 2020.

<sup>[1]</sup> Including the effect in 2019 of a warrant with a merchant (valued at US$4.3 million, which was a negative adjustment to revenue for such year), the NRR would have been 171%.

dLocal continued to focus on its expansion efforts and added Vietnam, Malaysia, and Guatemala to its geographic network during the quarter, bringing the total number of countries in which dLocal makes its services available to 30.

On average, Enterprise Global Merchants used dLocal's platform in nearly seven different countries and 62 payment methods in the second quarter of 2021, compared to nearly six different countries and 44 payment methods in 2020 and nearly six different countries and 53 payment methods in the first quarter of 2021.

dLocal launched a pilot for a Direct Issuing Product, an issuance-as-a-service solution. The Direct Issuing Product enables merchants to create new lines of revenue and easily issue prepaid cards in local currencies to their customers or business partners, potentially reaching millions of consumers in emerging markets.

On April 1, 2021, dLocal completed the asset acquisition of PrimeiroPay for a purchase price of US$40.0 million, of which US$38.7 million was immediate cash consideration and US$1.3 million was contingent consideration. The transaction provides dLocal with targeted access to certain global merchants.

About dLocal

dLocal powers local payments in emerging markets, connecting global enterprise merchants with billions of emerging market consumers in 30 countries across APAC, the Middle East, Latin America, and Africa. Through the “One dLocal” platform (one direct API, one platform, and one contract), global companies can accept payments, send pay-outs and settle funds globally without the need to manage separate pay-in and payout processors, set up numerous local entities, and integrate multiple acquirers and payment methods in each market.

Definition of Selected Operational Metrics

“API”

Means application programming interface, which is a general term for programming techniques that are available for software developers when they integrate with a particular service or application. In the payments industry, APIs are usually provided by any party participating in the money flow (such as payment gateways, processors, service providers) to facilitate the money transfer process.

---

“Enterprise Global Merchants”

Means merchants with at least US$6 million of annual TPV used in our platform.

“Local payment methods”

Refers to any payment method that is processed in the country where the end user of the merchant sending or receiving payments is located, which include credit and debit cards, cash payments, bank transfers, mobile money, and digital wallets.

“NRR”

Means net revenue retention rate, which is the U.S. dollar-based measure of retention and growth of our merchants. We calculate the NRR of a period by dividing the current period revenue by the prior period revenue. The prior period revenue is the revenue billed by us to all of our merchant customers in the corresponding period for the prior fiscal year. The current period revenue is the revenue billed by us in the corresponding period for the current fiscal year to the same merchant customers included in the calculation of the prior period revenue. Current period revenue includes any upsells and cross sells of products, geographies, and payment methods to such merchant customers, and is net of any contractions or attrition, but excludes revenue from new customers on-boarded during the last 12 months.

“Pay-in”

Means a payment transaction whereby dLocal’s merchant customers receive payment from their customers.

“Pay-outs”

Means a payment transaction whereby dLocal disburses money in local currency to the business partners or customers of dLocal’s merchant customers.

“Revenue from New Merchants”

Means the revenue billed by us to merchant customers that we did not bill revenues in the same quarter (or period) of the prior year.

“Revenue from Existing Merchants”

Means the revenue billed by us in the last twelve months to the merchant customers that we billed revenue in the same quarter (or period) of the prior year.

Special Note Regarding Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin

dLocal has only one operating segment. dLocal measures its operating segment's performance by Revenues, Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin, and uses these metrics to make decisions about allocating resources.

Adjusted EBITDA as used by dLocal is defined as the profit from operations before financing and taxation for the year or period, as applicable, before depreciation of property, plant and equipment, amortization of right-of-use assets and intangible assets, and further excluding the changes in fair value of financial assets and derivative instruments carried at fair value through profit or loss, impairment gains/(losses) on financial assets, transaction costs, share-based payment non-cash charges, secondary offering expenses, transaction expenses and inflation adjustment. Adjusted EBITDA Margin is calculated by dividing Adjusted EBITDA by revenues.

Although Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin may be commonly viewed as non-IFRS measures in other contexts, pursuant to IFRS 8, (“Operating Segments”), Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin are treated by dLocal as IFRS measures based on the manner in which dLocal utilizes these measures.

Nevertheless, dLocal’s Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin metrics should not be viewed in isolation or as a substitute for net income for the periods presented under IFRS. dLocal also believes that its Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin metrics are useful metrics used by analysts and investors, although these measures are not explicitly defined under IFRS.

Additionally, the way dLocal calculates operating segment’s performance measures may be different from the calculations used by other entities, including competitors, and therefore, dLocal’s performance measures may not be comparable to those of other entities.

The table below presents a reconciliation of dLocal's Adjusted EBITDA and Adjusted EBITDA Margin to net income:
